

Deer Rescue at Bills Lake

In the early spring of 2015, two men commandeered a rowboat and broke through the thin ice to rescue a deer and fawn which had broken through the frozen water. They lifted the fawn into the boat and roped the mother. See next page.

The men towed the mother to the west side of the lake (the current Alkema property) where onlookers were waiting with blankets. It took the exhausted two a full three hours to recover before wandering off.
